

First RV Trip - Fall 2018

Day 16

Thursday

October 11th

Las Cruces, NM

To

Tombstone, AZ

Weather

70's
Sunny
Dry

Hello to Family & Friends

Took care of some items this morning that I have been putting off. Phone calls, emails, projects, shopping, etc.

After sending an email to Steve Shaw regarding the horseback ride I decided to head straight to Tombstone. I will spend Friday exploring Tombstone as a tourist.

The drive from Las Cruces to Tombstone was very scenic, but I did not feel like taking pictures while moving. Maybe on the way back to Florida.

Saturday I will try and find an RV/truck wash since the RV is still full of dust from the gravel roads in Big Bend, get rid of all the perishable food, dump the tank before spending the next week in a hotel, then check in to my hotel.

Only problem with this plan may be the weather. It is supposed to rain Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Our ride starts Monday morning.

So I should have some fun photos for tomorrow's newsletter.

GO BREWERS!!!!!!!!!!

Goodnight....
